PUBLIC AFFAIRS AND ADVOCACY INSTITUTE

Taking advantage of its settiing the nation's capitathe Public Affairs and Advocacy Institute offers courses on the representation or an institute offers courses on the representation or an institute offers courses on the representation or an institute of the federal government combining academic approach the real world of Washington lobbying. Twice a year, the ublic Affairs and Advocacy Institute (PAAt) onducts a two-week workshop featuring speakers in the faculty of American University and approximately 30 promine to by ists representing corporations, trade and professional associations, public interest dother citizen groups, labor unions, was law and lobbying firms.

The workshop examines the full range of strategies and tactics pursured anized interests and their lobbyists interests and their lobbyists interests in Congress and the executive branch. Drawing on their rich body of experiences, prominent lobbyists involved in all aspects of their profession offer lectures on such topics as direct lobbying, fundraising, the uses of different kinds of political money, arious types of grassroots rograms, coalition-building, advertising and public relations, the internet, and litigation strategies.

Workshop participants and vided into teams to apply this knowledge by simulating the activities of a realfe lobbying firm. Under the direction of a senior Washington lobbyist serving as a mentor, each team creates a strategic loubly image an important current public policy issue for a prospective client. On the final day of the institute the student teams make a presentation of their strategisto a panel of faculty and lobbying professionals.

For non-degree seeking students, there is a reduced fee non-credit optimible value will be you have additional questions about PAAI ease contact the Assistant Direction PAAI by e-mail at ccps@american.eduThe next session PAAI will be 0 D \ r(The 7.70.89isThe 7.70.89aion)]TJ c Tf 0 54.66.957 0 ($1,5024.)-0.01.36